CAR - TRUCK ACCIDENT BRINGS MINOR INJURIES TO COUPLE

Observations...

By UDELL

A little "Birdie" told us this week that one of our most eligible, up to this point, most elusive bachelors has finally decided that two can live as cheap as one.

A pleasant sight while riding along the beach road is the clean beach front by St. Stanislaus... and a few other private beaches. Some of our other property owners along the beach should follow suit and clean up. Some of them are pretty well gone with the weeds and filth. Our beachfront is the first thing to greet visitors and quite often gives the impression that the owners either don't care or just enjoy weeds and dirt.

TO OUR READERS: If you ever wish to voice an opinion about some civic matter in a letter to the Editor, please sign your name to same, and pseudonym, if desired, and it will be printed in its entirety. If you are civic-minded enough to write a letter you certainly should have the courage to back up statements and sign it. Your name will never be divulged, but we must have a signed copy of the letter for our files.

Are you interested in the development of the youth of our community? They are badly in need of moral support from the parents and citizens of Bay St. Louis and surrounding area. Every Sunday a group of youngsters play their hearts out either at Morreale's Park or at the home park of the opposing team. But, do they play to the cheers of a crowd of home rooters? The answer is "no." Father Taylor and assistants are devoting their time to the boys who are interested in baseball, can't the parents of these children at least show their appreciation and come to the you will enjoy it!...

Can't something be done about the sidewalk situation in Bay St. Louis?

While on the question of civic improvements, can't the parking problem by the Legion Home and Star Theatre and other spots in town be solved? Double parking by the how makes it impossible for more than one car to pass at a time.

From all indications, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has taken an overdose of sleeping pills. Our antidote is a good dose of vitamins.

W. J. Gex Named To Committee

In the election Tuesday of sixth district delegates to the national Democratic convention and the selection of persons to serve on various state committees, Walter J. Gex, Jr., was named to the creditable committee for the state convention. No one from Hancock County was nominated to attend the national convention.

Although all chosen in the congressional district caucuses are only nominees, the action of affirmation is only a formality.

Each district has two votes each in the state block at the national convention. All seven districts endorsed former Gov. Fielding Wright for election as national committeeman and Mrs. Hermes Gautier, Pascagoula, for national committeewoman.

The Mississippi delegation, solid States Rights, will go to the national convention unpledged but pro-Russell. All districts endorsed Wright, Governor Hugh White, Lt.-Gov. Carroll Garrison, speaker Walter Sillers, executive chairman Tom Tubb, W. W. Wright and Sens. John Eastland and John S.annis as delegates at large from the state, with one-half vote each.

With delegates, alternates, delegates at large and their alternates, the state's delegation will number 46, the seventh district having appointed four delegates with one-half vote each, and each of two delegates each with a full vote. This complicates the national convention seating arrangement which calls for 44 delegates from Mississippi.

The Democratic state convention will be held June 24 at which time all the delegates and their alternates must be voted on.

Altar Society Shower For Rectory Huge Success

Mrs. Vincent Piazza presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Altar Society of St. Margaret's Church, held on Wednesday afternoon at the Scout House, in the rear of the Catholic church.

Attending the meeting besides Mrs. Horace Kergosien, president, and Mrs. Bernard Farrelly, financial secretary, were the Rev. Father Desmond and Mesdames G. Batzlor, M. Artigues, B. Beyer, E. M. Brignac, E. Boudin, E. J. Arceneaux, M. Coward, O. Delph, E. Fayard, H. Glover, St. Alden Mauffray, Carol Mauffray, Waldo Olin, S. Preis, F. Saab, T. Schafer, G. Stevenson, P. J. Treutel, Daisy Wentworth, Charles Bous and Miss Elsa Mauffray.

Twenty-five dollars was donated to be used for transportation for children attending Catholicism classes in the rural sections of the parish.

Father Desmond asked for assistance of the members of the Altar Society and St. Margaret's Daughters with the Church Fair, and stated a list of chairmen and their committees would be placed on the bulletin boards in the church entrances. The following have volunteered to head committees:

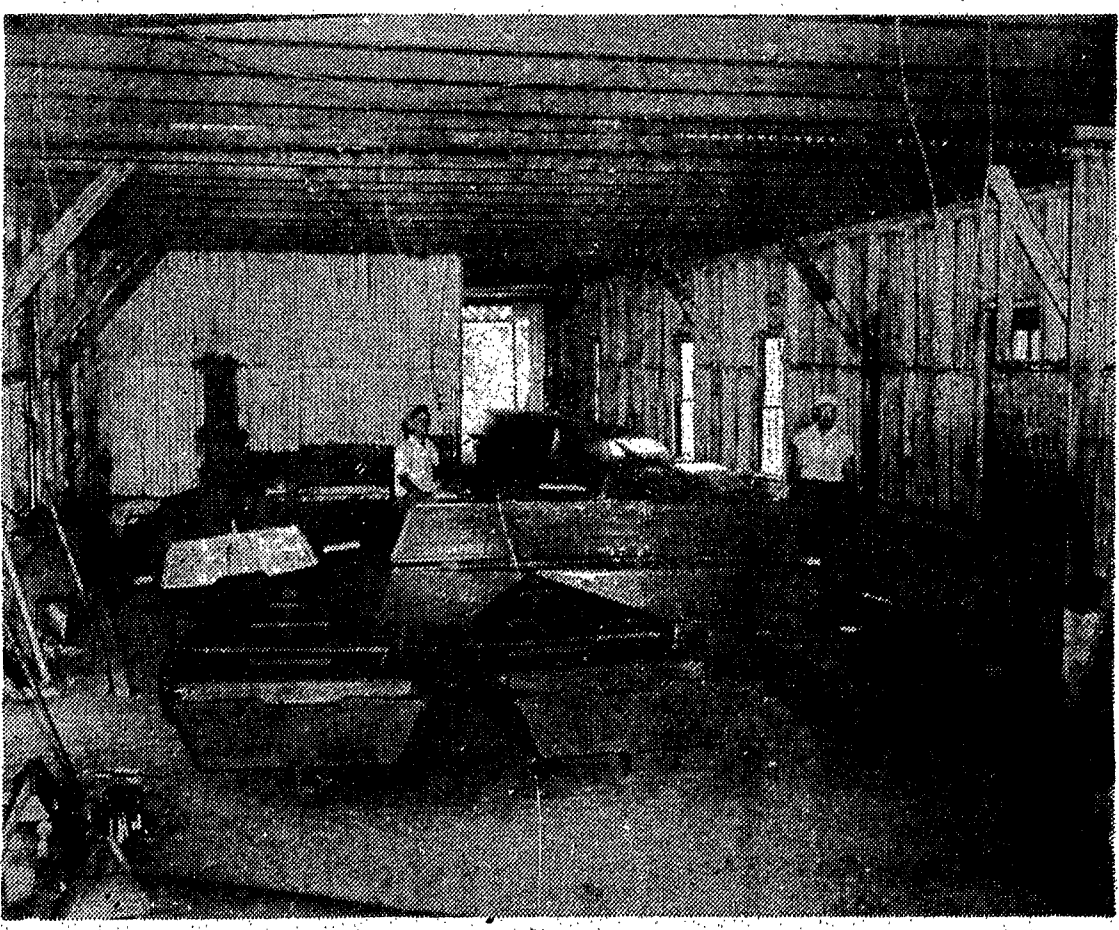

Mrs. K. Assenheimer, cake table; Mrs. C. Turner, representing S. J. A. Mothers Club, candy table; Mrs. Alden Mauffray, Mrs. G. Batzlor, sandwich table; Mrs. Charles Beyer, lemonade; Mrs. Miller, cake walk; Mrs. A. Zingarling, country store.

Mrs. Piazza reminded the ladies of the dedication of the new chapel at the Hubert Blenk Memorial Home, conducted by St. Margaret's Daughters of New Orleans and stated they were all invited to attend on June 23, at 11:00 a. m.

Mrs. P. J. Treutel gave an interesting report on the meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women, held in Bay St. Louis on last Wednesday, and at which Father Desmond gave a very interesting talk on the Bible.

Mrs. Mauffray, chairman of the Shower for the rectory, reported a substantial amount of money had been received and asked Father Desmond to open the first gift, after which the members present assisted. Articles received were 48 face towels, 47 bath towels, 32 wash cloths, 3 double bedspreads, 42 pillow slips, 32 sheets 10 dish towels, 3 dish cloths, 5 table cloths, 1 bath mat, 1 dozen men's handkerchiefs, 3 bars bath soap, 1 waste basket, 3 foam pillows.

Father Desmond and Mrs. Piazza thanked everyone for their attendance and generosity in making the shower so successful. At this meeting six homecoming cards were promised for the Altar Society which will be distributed at the next meeting. The Altar Society provides refreshments for the members.

LIFE-SAVING BLOOD

Have you ever wondered what is probably the most indispensable element of the human body? It's hard to say since there are so many things that the body just can't do without. But an untested "must" on your list would doubtlessly be blood - rich, whole blood. Without blood the body is like a plant without roots for there is nothing to bring nourishment to the tissues.

That is why the American Red Cross now solicits your support and cooperation in its drive to obtain blood to be used here at home for the injured and ill and to be used abroad wherever US forces might shed their blood for democracy's sake.

On the national scene Red Cross needs blood to aid victims of disaster and to provide blood for those who need it to combat natural illnesses. A stepped up domestic blood pool is necessary to meet increasing demands. Blood plasma is urgently needed for our troops in Korea who are losing their blood so that blood of free men might run through our veins. A blood donation seems hardly a gift when one realizes that he is only remunerating a soldier who has sacrificed a portion of his blood for all America.

It is no exaggerated propaganda when you hear of the desperation in which blood plasma is needed at the front. Men have died, and are still dying, on the battlefield because of the lack of that pint of blood someone was going to give but never quite got around to donating.

Well, Hancock County residents have another chance to help their fellow citizens and fellow Americans. The Red Cross blood mobile will be here Monday, June 23 from 12 to 5:30 p. m. at the Bay St. Louis Youth Center. If you are between the ages of 18 and 60, in good physical condition, you can make arrangements to give that invaluable pint of blood; just call the local Red Cross office, 67, or Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick, 246.

To help save lives of fighting men and civilians 1,790,870 pints of blood were given through Red Cross and co-operating blood banks in the fiscal year 1950-51. This year, to meet the continued war casualty and national demands, even more is needed.

This message is direct, timely and urgent. There must be blood when the various domestic and military field hospitals need it, and the need is immediate. If you are physically eligible, do your duty as a citizen; do your duty to your fellow man. It's a small sacrifice to make in order to save a life. Think! Some day that blood might be needed by you or your own family. Don't you want it to be waiting?

FEDERAL TREASURY RECEIVES $56,168 IN OPS VIOLATIONS

Southeastern firms paid a total of $56,168.82 into the U. S. Treasury during May as a result of enforcement activities brought about by non-compliance with ceiling price regulations, George D. Patterson Jr., Regional Director of the Office of Price Stabilization in Atlanta, announced today.

Patterson said the two largest settlements were made for over ceiling sales of turpentine and amounted to $22,488.80 by one firm and $10,966.16 by another.

Enforcement personnel in the ten Southeastern districts completed 930 investigations during the month. Some 2,711 investigative actions are still pending.

Nationally, Patterson added, OPS enforcement actions resulted in the filing of 65 injunctive and treble damage suits in District Courts last week. In the 14 treble damage actions, he said, damages sought by OPS totaled $657,474.37. Six criminal actions were also filed last week.

TWINE CEILINGS
The Office of Price Stabilization moved last week to assure farmers normal distribution of baler and binder twine, used in mechanical farm equipment to tie up hays, grasses and grains. R. W. May, District Director of the Office of Price Stabilization in Jackson, announced.

The action took the form of an amendment to the regulation governing ceiling prices of the twine, Supplementary Regulation 30 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

The amendment, effective immediately, provides alternative dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for the dealer's place of business.

The new ceilings are at approximately 16 percent above manufacturers' current list prices but are not expected to raise the level of dealers' ceiling prices established in the regulation, OPS said, as they represent average pre-Korean dealer markups.

The action was necessary, OPS explained, because many dealers found their records inadequate for computing ceiling prices under the new regulation and were required to apply to the National OPS office for establishment of ceilings. The new ceilings are intended to avoid delay in setting ceilings for individual dealers which might slow down distribution of the twines to farmers.

ABSTRACTS EXEMPT
Making and supplying of abstracts of titles to real property have been exempted from ceiling price control, OPS announced this week.

The action, effective immediately, is in line with exemptions already provided for fees and charges of real estate brokers, agents and appraisers and of mortgage brokers services which are closely allied with this week's exemptions.

It was pointed out that the exemptions will have little effect on the cost of living because the services are brought by the average person only once or twice in a lifetime, and fees for title abstracting are also regulated in some states.

HENRY J'S REDUCED
Reduced retail ceiling prices for 1952 Henry J and Allstate new passenger automobiles have been established in a special order issued by the Office of Price Stabilization last week.

Home Agents Notes

By MADGE ALLRED

Many women and girls don't wear hose all of the time during the hot summer time, but for those occasions when they "dress up" they will want to watch out and prevent runs and snags.

Good advice for them is to watch the girl who sells them their hose for tips on saving their hose and making them last. The sales girl knows that smooth handling pays to avoid snags that lead to runs and ruin. So she keeps her hands and fingernails smooth and avoids wearing rings that might catch and pull the delicate fabric.

In stores, hosiery is kept in smooth boxes; each pair separated by smooth paper.

Such stress on smoothness may seem extreme unless you count the cost of runs and snags from contacts with rough surfaces. Probably no other item of women's wear needs such care as hosiery.

Here's how to smooth the way for stockings and save money:

Keep stockings in a smooth container, each pair separate, instead of tumbling them together in a drawer where they may catch on rough wood or something else in the drawer. Satin-lined hosiery boxes are for sale.

Stores advise rinsing new stockings before wearing and then washing after every day's wear. This helps keep them in shape for a good fit and prevents possible damage from perspiration. Nylon is affected by some acids, and silk by alkaline substances.

Even if you wash only a pair at a time, it may pay to wash in a cheesecloth bag as a protection against snags. Use lukewarm mild suds of soap or other detergent. Squeeze the bagful in the wash water and then, in rinse water. Roll the bag in a bath towel to remove excess moisture. Then either dry the stockings in the bag or hang them over a bath

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this means to thank all who were so conscious of our bereavement at the death of Mrs. Edward Kelly Sr., and who offered assistance and consolation in any way.

Edward Kelly Sr. and Family of Pearlington.

—Visiting with their grandmother, Mrs. R. G. Seaford, recently were Billy Jo and Conney Kennedy of Tampa, Florida.

towel. Never hang hose on a rough rack or pin them on a line to flap in the breeze. Never dry in hot sun or near a hot radiator.

The life of your stockings may depend on how you put them on. Many a run in a brand new stocking has started by putting toes in the top and then jerking or pulling on fast. Safest way to don hosiery is to roll the stocking down to its foot, place your foot in its toe, then gently roll it up, guiding the seam as you go.

Worn shoe linings, rough edges on shoes or shoe buckles, or even rough callouses on the feet can catch and snag hose. Just now starched petticoats and stiffened fashion but they can play havoc with hose. So can rough places on furniture. A little sandpapering or waxing of a rough chair or table leg thus may save hosiery bills.

If you find a snag in a stocking, pull it inside where it is less likely to catch and pull. Sometimes you can halt a tiny hole by mending with yarn raveled from a worn stocking. Keep a few mending baskets. Other thrifty uses for old stockings: Painters use them for straining paint. Some homemakers report that nylons are resilient enough to make good stuffing for pillows.

FORESTRY
Timber crops produced in an income of more than one million dollars to farmers in 50 Mississippi counties during 1951. With proper management this income can be increased indefinitely.

Timber is not a "one-time" crop. By selective cutting of trees prevention of fires and carrying out timber stand improvement, timber areas will furnish an income to farmers indefinitely.

MANAGEMENT TIPS
Check for a good stand just as you do with row crops. To have a good stand, you need 1,000 seedlings to the acre growing.

Trees in the first and second growing seasons should be protected from tramping and grazing by livestock.

Do's. Spot check for survival of planted seedlings. 2. Protect young trees from overgrazing by livestock. 3. Cut girdle or poison undesirable trees that are over-lapping young, desirable trees. 4. Keep water for insect damage and dispose of all infested trees immediately to prevent spread of infestation.

A don't. Do not injure pine trees so as leave pine brush near standing timber. These may cause insect infestation.

LIVESTOCK PARASITE CONTROL

Horn Flies. These small, black, blood sucking flies can weaken an animal to the extent that it will lose one-half pound beef gain a day, or drop 15 to 25 percent in milk production a day.

Horn flies can be controlled with either DDT, toxaphene, or methoxychlor. Spraying with any of these will give control for about three weeks.

Wet the backs, necks and sides of the animal, thoroughly. If the weather is rainy or excessively hot, wet the underline of the animal.

On milking cows use only methoxychlor.

If using 50 percent wettable powder, mix four pounds of any of these materials with 50 gallons of water. In small amounts this is one cupful to three gallons of water.

If using a 25 percent emulsifiable concentrate (two pounds of technical material to the gallon) of any of these insecticides, mix one gallon to 50 gallons of water or one cupful to three gallons of water.

Scare worms will often kill animals unless found and treated. Use caution in all castrating, de-horning and branding. Treat all fresh or infested wounds with Smear E. Q. 335 or U. S. Smear 62. E. Q. 335 is a mixture of three percent lindane and 3 percent pine oil with other ingredients. It kills both maggots and adult flies.

Apply with a paint brush in the wound and over an area of about one inch around the wound. Repeat the treatment as necessary until the wound heals.

For more information on controlling livestock insects see a copy of Extension Publication 214, "Control Cattle Pests."

PASTURES

Management rules. 1. Never overgraze any pasture. 2. Respect the life of all pasture crops and when they are through, remove livestock to another area. 3. Mow, slip or spray pastures at least twice each summer to control weeds and bushes.

4. Alternate grazing on all pastures during the summer and fall. 5. Graze temporary grazing crops a few hours each day instead of grazing them all day long. 6. Give enough pasture area for each animal. 7. If you have too many animals for the amount of pasture available, either sell some stock or supply more pasture. 8. Never let any pasture go without fertilizer.

AUTOMOBILE TAG INCREASE NOTED

A nationwide automotive survey just completed by the Bureau of Public Roads in cooperation with the various states, indicates an increase in Mississippi vehicle registration of 5.3 per cent.

With the comparison of 1951 and 1950 registrations, Mississippi was credited with 444,374 vehicles in 1950 and 510,286 in 1951. Figures on current registrations indicate the 1952 total will run to about 555,000 for the year ending in October.

Advance design details on new model automobiles (this was before the steel strike) indicate they will have longer and lower lines. With highways built to allow "ample" distance to see ahead, each time design lowers the drivers' seat, mile after mile of good highway over the nation becomes semi-obsolete and unsafe.

High Auto Speed Means Greater Chance Of Death

Greater automobile speed means greater chance of death!

That was the blunt warning given today by A. S. Windham, Executive Director of the Mississippi Highway Safety Council. This group, along with the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol and other state safety agencies, in cooperation with the National Safety Council, are stressing "Speed Control," the June theme in their continuing program for traffic safety.

Windham pointed out that persons injured in a traffic accident at sixty miles an hour or more are eight times more likely to die of their injuries than persons injured at 20 miles an hour, or less. The Safety Director explained that "stopping distances increase rapidly as speed increases" and illustrated that a driver can stop with 45 feet at 20 miles an hour, it takes about 186 feet with good brakes to bring a car to a stop at fifty miles an hour.

Another hazard of fast driving, as listed by Windham, was that he explained as "tunnel vision," which he said "results in drivers being less able to see objects on either side of them, and may be the cause of many side-swiping and passing accidents."

"One study of automobile wrecks and their causes," he said, "has shown that this 'tunnel vision' affects all drivers at speeds of sixty miles an hour or more."

Referring to figures compiled by the National Safety Council, Windham pointed out that during 1951, excessive speed was a factor in one out of every three fatal accidents in the United States. Approximately 10,000 persons were killed as a result of these accidents, he said.

"As for Mississippi," Windham declared, "Upwards of 142 deaths have been caused on state highways, so far this year, and even more will be caused if the driving public does not come to the realization that speed kills."

He said factors to be considered in determining a "safe rate of speed" include the weather, the condition of the road and traffic, the mechanical condition of the car and the driver's own physical condition; in addition, congested parking or heavy pedestrian traffic, storm conditions, under-inflated tires or brakes, a bad headache or extreme fatigue.

O P S NEWS

OPS has lightened provisions of its white potato ceiling regulation to provide that country shippers will be able to take the full 88 cents a hundredweight markup only if their potatoes are peddled in less than carlot or trucklot quantities to nearby retailers, institutions and commercial users. This was done to protect established intermediate sellers from sales by country sellers direct to distant retailers and to out of normal trade channels. The action, it is pointed out, preserves the established channels of distribution essential to orderly marketing.

OPS has allowed increases in percentage markups which retail grocers may add to their net costs in determining ceiling prices for a selected list of dry groceries. The effect on the average family budget will be from three to seven cents a week higher, based on 45,000,000 families in the land. The action followed an industry showing that 1951 earnings of food chains and supermarkets are, on average, 85 percent of the average of earnings in the best three of the four years 1946-1949.

Stabilization, says Roger L. Putnam, Administrator of Economic Stabilization Agency, means maintaining an equitable balance between the various segments of the economy, to see that they are kept in a stable line with one another. "For stabilization we must have rules and regulations to permit a certain degree of flexibility in the economy," he said. "Such rules must be flexible enough to permit business to get back to a reasonable profit position. They must allow wage and salary earners to keep abreast of any change in the cost of living. These rules must take care of other inequities as arise from time to time in an economy as complex as ours," he said.

OPS Director Ellis Arnall reports that inflation is now hitting the farmer as well as the housewife. "The Department of Agriculture's Index of Prices Paid by Farmers was at an all-time high by mid-April and some 14 percent above June 1950. Failure to extend price control authority will mean higher prices for farm machinery and fertilizers and farmers' costs will increase still further." To protect the value of the large crops expected this year, the farmers' costs must also be protected from inflationary increases, he explained.

OPS officials informed the OPS Consumer Advisory Committee that it is the consensus of a group of the nation's leading economists and financial experts that inflation overshadows the economic outlook.

OPS has filed through the Department of Justice more than 230 injunctive actions against service trades establishments, the majority for failure to file records and reports as required by the ceiling price regulation covering the many kinds of services that account for 12 percent of the average consumer's personal budget. Full compliance of the service trades is essential to a safeguarding of everyone's standard of living.

OPS Director Ellis Arnall says that stabilization of the national economy "is just as important as the procurement of munitions. And there is nothing in the international situation today which justifies letting down our guard. The attack on the economic front is just as real a danger as the threat of military action, and a strong Defense Production Act is our principal weapon for resisting that attack," he said.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

by W. F. Bond, Director of Public Relations

Effective July 1, on account of an increase in the appropriation for the Welfare Program, the regulations with reference to the ability of sons and daughters to help their parents will be as follows: a single son (or daughter) will not be expected to help his needy parents unless his income is over $145 per month. One-half the amount over $145 which the son or daughter may be receiving will be counted as available for the parent or parents in need.

If the child is married no help is expected unless the monthly income is over $175. If the son (or daughter) has a child under 16, there will be no responsibility to assist the parent unless the income is over $175. If the son (or daughter) has two children, there will be no responsibility unless the monthly income is over $245 per month, and so on. The Welfare Office in your county will be glad to explain the program in detail to any person who would like to have such information. These regulations will be made by the State Board of Public Welfare in cooperation with the Federal authorities, and have to be carried out until changed by law or by the State Board and the Federal representatives.

By - Gone Days

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The State of Mississippi by virtue of the affirmation by the Supreme court of the Noel primary election law, is the first in the Union to adopt a measure of such character to compel all political parties to nominate their candidates by the primary method.

While the law as enacted was received with much satisfaction, the minds of many were perturbed in the matter, whether its enactment was constitutional, but now that this phase has been settled there remains nothing but the law in full and in force, and its workings will be closely watched in time to come by those concerned, as well as by the outside world. The Noel primary law will be given its initial working this summer in the matter of congressional elections and will probably prove satisfactory.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
To C. F. Lyle has gone the contract for building the Hancock county shore line seawall at the sum of $800,855.

While the project is popularly known as the Waveland seawall, it includes not only that section of the county shore line, but from the north end of Bay St. Louis on to Bayou Lardosse, extending approximately three miles and seven-tenths, and from the southern end of the city of Bay St. Louis where the wall ceases on to a point near Bayou Caddy, covering six miles and seven-tenths, including Waveland, Gulfside, Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore.

The seawall is of the step type. Where necessary there will be dredged earth fill.

TEN YEARS AGO
For the purpose of preventing silhouetting of friendly shipping to the advantage of enemy submarines and pursuant to instructions of the Commanding General, Southern Defense Command, prohibition and restriction have been placed on lighting along the coast.

Prohibited are illuminated signs, flood lights, bright illumination at sport games, exterior lighting, except street lights with 500 yards of the coast line and bonfires etc. on beaches.

These restrictions are applicable to all lighting for a distance of 10 miles inland from the coast line, and for all city lighting in communities within a distance of 25 miles inland from the coast line which have objectionable loom as determined by inspection from the sea.

FIVE YEARS AGO
It has just been announced that Ellis Guillory, at present finishing his master degree in physical education at L. S. U., has been employed as coach and principal of Bay High School.

Guillory comes highly recommended and it is felt by school officials that he will be a definite asset to the athletic program. Mrs. Guillory, with a degree in physical and school health as well as social science, has been added to the faculty to carry on a real physical education program for the girls.

THE STEEL STRIKE

In this, the Capital of the world, where many important decisions are always pressing, the steel strike continues to be one of the most momentous decisions demanding attention. It is tragic indeed that the production of steel, one of the most important commodities if not the most important commodity of both war and peace, should be held up by selfish differences between labor and management. With a threatened all-out war in Korea, with an alleged shortage of materials of warfare in Korea now, all agree that such a thing should not be permitted to happen. Yet, under our democratic system of government such things can happen and do happen. Such a thing could not happen in a totalitarian state like Russia, where men are mere tools of the state.

Last week the Supreme Court handed down its momentous decision holding that the President's seizure of the steel industry was illegal and unconstitutional. Immediately Phil Murray, the dictator of the steel labor union, called them in off their jobs. Several days later the President appeared suddenly and dramatically before a joint session of the Congress and delivered his message with reference to the strike. In that message he followed the line that he has followed throughout the controversy. He took the position that the steel workers were right and the steel producers were wrong. He admitted that he had the statutory authority, granted him by the Taft-Hartley Law, to act, but he said he didn't want to use that authority and asked the Congress to grant him the authority to seize the plants legally, which the Supreme Court said he had therefore seized illegally. The reaction of most members of Congress is that the President should use the authorities he has. The Senate, under its comparatively elastic rules of procedure, added a rider to the Defense Production Bill, then under consideration in that body, telling the President to go ahead and use the Taft-Hartley procedure.

P. N. HOWELL
Last week one of Mississippi's truly great noblemen passed into the Great Beyond. Posey Napoleon Howell, one of the most useful, unselfish and valuable citizens of Mississippi suddenly died by his own choice. While it is deeply regretted that he had to go this way, as one who knew him intimately and evaluated him most highly, we know that this final act of his was nothing more or less than the final unselfish action of a long and unselfish life. We have never known a man more considerate of others than was Posey Howell. After more than a year's intensive and excruciating pain, hopeless of recovery, he feared that he would become a burden on those whom he loved and cherished so unselfishly.

Starting out in the virgin pine belt of South Mississippi as a boy of fourteen hauling sawdust at fifty cents a day, he gradually worked his way to the top. Often referred to as "The Father of Forestry" in Mississippi, he was the first to recognize the necessity for reforestation. Unquestionably he contributed more than any other man in the South to the reforestation program and the wealth that it has and is bringing to this section. No marble shaft pleading the ethereal blue of the horizon is necessary as a monument to this friend of man. The stalwart pines and sturdy oaks that thrive in South Mississippi are the monumental results of his love and his labor. A good man, one of God's noblemen, has gone to his reward.

MISSISSIPPI NOW PRODUCES CLOTHING FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

From head to toe, you can now dress the whole family in Mississippi-made clothing. Over 70 factories produce $100-million worth of all types of clothing each year. These plants use large amounts of Mississippi farm products, employ thousands of state people. Clothing plant purchases and payroll give an extra boost to the progress of Mississippi industry and agriculture.

ANOTHER SIGNPOST OF PROGRESS in the Magnolia State is the growth of the beer industry due to the increased public acceptance of legal, regulated beer as the beverage of moderation.

Here are today's Explorations of Mississippi

Solid portion of land shows area covered by Gulf leasing activities. Shaded portion shows area where Gulf has been exploring and gas production. Exploration work has been done in all of Mississippi's 82 counties.

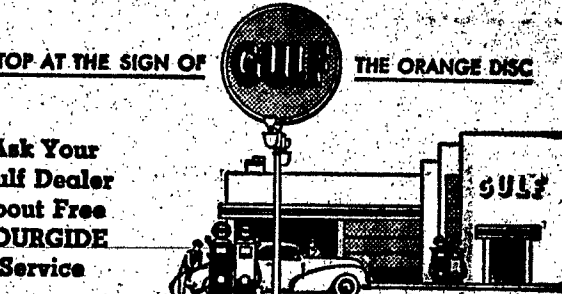

Gulf "shooting" crews are modern explorers of Mississippi. It has taken 35 years of pioneering for its geophysical crews to explore in all of Mississippi's 82 counties.

Today, Gulf has under lease over 1,200,000 acres in 45 counties and has drilled a total of 506 wells—145 of them dry holes. In the past six months three new field discoveries resulted—Wilkinson and Ireland in Wilkinson county and Hilmann in Wayne County—which should substantially increase Gulf's monthly production, now second in the state.

The effects of Gulf dollars spent in developing vital new oil resources are felt throughout the state. In 1951 alone, Gulf payments for royalties, rentals, taxes, payrolls and materials poured over $13,000,000 of new money into all Mississippi channels of trade. And these contributions to Mississippi progress will grow as Gulf continues its exploration and development work.

Gulf believes that Mississippi history will include a bright chapter for the state's oil explorers. For pioneers, like Gulf, have discovered and developed new wealth from under the land. The result is progress, prosperity and greater opportunity for all Mississippians.

LET'S STICK TO MOSES!

When they were preparing to produce the motion picture "The Ten Commandments," the director and the author of the story consulted a professor who had been recommended as an authority on the Law of Moses. They expected a scholarly explanation, but when the professor had finished, there was left of the Ten Commandments, and no story.

After the interview, when they were alone again, the director remarked: "We'll stick to Moses."

Yes, let's stick to Moses! There may be those who would abolish the Ten Commandments, but let's stick to the Commandments as God gave them to us through Moses.

And there is no better way of doing so, than by sticking to Jesus Christ, Who gave us the Commandments of love—the love of God and the love of our neighbor. All other Commandments are contained in these two.

"Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God..." The observance of Christ's first Commandment will establish in us a strong, dignified personal relationship to God. If we love the true God, we will give Him the honor that is His due... we will respectfully use His Holy Name... we will not think it too much to spend one day of the week in His company.

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," said the Savior. Who should hold first place among our neighbors, if not our parents... or our own children?

And it should be obvious that if we love our neighbor, we will not take his life, or damage his health. Decent human love surely excludes the burlesque of love called adultery and the fierce attack which this love makes upon the innocent and unprotected.

We would never steal from the ones we love; nor would we rob them of their good name. Certainly we would not lift a covetous hand to deprive them of the things intended to make their lives full and contented.

Let's stick to Moses, whose Commandments forbade human beings to break the bonds and destroy the relationships that preserve human dignity, develop character and guarantee human safety.

Let's stick to Christ, Who, in a more spiritual way, pointed out that if we love rightly and well, we will obey the law of God... protect all the relationships that guarantee our own happiness and make life safe and happy for the people who are our neighbors.

The Ten Commandments are God's design for human living. Are you familiar with them? Do you understand how important they are in your daily life? Write today for our free pamphlet on this subject. Ask for Pamphlet No. 12-KC.

BOARD OF HEALTH SAYS MISS. HAS SAFE MILK TO DRINK

To the question, "Is the milk you drink safe?" almost any citizen of Mississippi can answer—an emphatic "yes." And to the logical next question as to how he knows, this citizen would be likely to say, "Because the milk I buy has 'Grade A Pasteurized' on the label and this means that the plan that processes and bottles the milk is cooperating with the Health Department under the Grade A milk regulations."

These questions and answers are simple and clear now that this has been always been so.

According to Dr. Felix J. Underwood, State Health Officer of the Mississippi State Board of Health, "The safe, wholesome milk supply taken for granted today has its beginning in Mississippi less than 25 years ago. On July 15, 1927, the Mississippi State Board of Health adopted the Standard Milk Ordinance of the U. S. Public Health Service and has recommended its adoption to municipalities throughout the State. The responsibility was assigned to the Division of Sanitary Engineering of the State Board of Health, under the direction of Mr. H. A. Kroeze, and is still carried on as a part of the activities of this division."

Shortly after this work was started, the U. S. Public Health Service developed a "yard stick" or rating plan for measuring the progress made in the milk supply of any community. This yard stick is the basis of the present Grade A standard today. It is on this standard that Grade A milk is accepted or rejected for interstate and inter-state shipment. A survey rating of 90 per cent is considered satisfactory for Grade A milk and milk products. The rating is based on three factors: the enforcement of the regulations by the health department; the conditions of the bottling plant; and the quality of the milk received by the bottling plant."

Mr. D. B. Whitehead, Supervisor of Food and Milk Control with the Division of Sanitary Engineering, has submitted a report on the growth of the milk industry from the standpoint of safe and sanitary milk and its economic income to the State from which Dr. Underwood quoted, "The latest figures available, indicate that there are over 65,000 gallons of Grade A pasteurized milk consumed each day in Mississippi. This is in ad-

The present growth and prosperity of the industry and the extremely high quality of fluid milk products available to each and every citizen of Mississippi have been the result of wholehearted cooperation between the dairy industry and the health departments working with a mutual aim—providing a safe, wholesome product for the consumer and developing sound regulations and proper enforcement. In order that these regulations might be properly understood by all concerned, the sanitation supervisors of the county health departments who make the routine inspections, have worked long and hard in teaching and training the many people who handle the milk from the time it leaves the cow until it reaches the consumer's table. Nearly all of the personnel responsible for safeguarding the sanitation of milk in any of its phases are college graduates, well trained in their field. Those who have not had the advantage of college training have been on the job for many years.

"An important part of the supervision is the routine sampling for bacteriological and chemical analysis of the raw milk and finished products. In 1930, approximately 4,000 samples of milk were analyzed. In 1951, approximately 27,000 samples were analyzed in eleven laboratories.

"In the beginning milk was produced locally, bottled and delivered locally; but today there are only a few counties in the State that do not send some of their milk supply to an adjoining or distant county for processing and final consumption.

"The development of the Grade A program has been successful for three basic reasons:

1. There was a need for such a program.
